Subject to the preceding, Sunday bus credits will be transferred from one activity to another.

Leaders must collect deposits from sufficient participants to cover non-recoverable costs before paying the deposit to the service provider(s). This is particularly important where there are long lead times and where deposits may be forfeited if the trip does not eventuate.

To avoid problems with participant cancellation, leaders should collect the balance of money for the trip and collect full payment for the service(s) as early as practicable.
- 5.14 Leaders should avoid getting involved with the payment of any costs that can be paid directly by individual participants.
- 5.15 Any refund relating to private transport activities for deposits, transport, booking fees or other costs paid to the leader will be dependent on whether the leader can reasonably recover those costs. A person who has paid any costs for the activity directly is responsible for recovering those costs.
- 5.16 Refund of non-recoverable payments paid on behalf of participants who withdraw from the activity will only be considered if they find a suitable replacement.
- 5.17 A Temporary Member fee will only be refunded if the leader is satisfied that a visitor's non-participation was due to illness, a situation under the Club's Fire Season, Total Fire Ban and Extreme Heat Policies or other unavoidable circumstances and that the visitor made a reasonable effort to notify the leader before the walk.
