December 2014

PRESIDENT'S CORNER – DECEMBER

The main items at the November Committee Meeting were: accepting Panorama's proposed increase in bus costs for 2015 (<3%); deciding that no bus walker fee increase is necessary for 2015 as the Sunday walks continue to be popular and in surplus; discussing our expected end of year financial position and whether an increase in membership fees is required (at this stage we don't believe a fee increase will be needed, mainly due to our high operating reserves); agreeing to support the proposal for the Great Forests National Park; reviewing a number of incident reports (ankle and minor injuries); and our regular Future Directions item.

In December we should be able to publish our draft 'objectives' for the Club over the next few years for member comment and feedback.

We would like to be known as a very friendly club where everyone feels welcome. Christmas is a special time of year so at this year's Christmas Party let's make sure that everyone is included. If you see someone on their own, whether you know them or not, engage them, go over and talk to them or bring them into your group, introduce them, find out something about them – don't just tell them about yourself! Of course the same applies on all our activities and especially Sunday walks where we have a high number of visitors and new members.

The Autumn Program is currently being developed by our Walks Secretaries, Coordinators and Leaders. As well as a great range of Sunday walks, MOFS/TOFS, cycling etc. we have the return of the Dandenong Explorer walks. This autumn we hope to have two Wednesday Walks each month to monitor the interest level. Easter has been a favourite time for remote base camps and for interstate trips, with Tasmania and NSW being popular destinations.

One of the things we want in future is a more diverse and growing overnight program of pack carries, base camps and cycling, whether they be in Victoria, interstate or overseas. From 2001–2006 we had 24–33 pack carries each year and 18–26 base camps. While the number of activities has dropped in recent years, pack carries in particular increased this year, with 20 on the program. Regular 'iconic walks' such as the Wilsons Prom, introductory pack carries, and harder walks for the more experienced walkers helps make for an interesting overnight program.

WARNING! THIEVES ACTIVE AT THE PROM

Last weekend on a non-Club 4-day walk at Wilson's Promontory, a Ranger warned us that the ravens have learned to undo zips on packs.

This was proved to us the next day when we left our packs by the track as we did a side trip to the lighthouse. When we got back all our zip pockets had been opened and the birds stole four bread rolls and a bag of lollies from my pack.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT (continued from page 1)

It has been quite a few years since we had water activities on the program (canoeing/kyaking last in 2011, with only two since 2007 and liloing in 2008). I have been asked a number of times by visitors and new members if we still do these activities. It would be great to see some water activities return in 2015, starting this autumn. Maybe we could get new leaders interested in learning from the experienced hands and develop extra skills in these activities.

The Committee want to encourage our overnight leaders to help us make this autumn's program one they will enjoy, and a memorable and compelling one for members and visitors.

Reminders and information for this month:

WHISTLES – COMMUNICATING IN THE BUSH

An essential piece of equipment in the bush is the humble whistle. It is the best way to communicate between walkers.

- 3 blasts indicate an emergency, e.g. a missing person, and all walkers should move to where the signal originated.
- 2 blasts indicate a need to regroup, e.g. a person needs first aid, the group is too spread out.
- 1 blast indicates acknowledgement and lets everyone know that a message has been heard and is being actioned.

If an acknowledgement whistle is not heard then it is important that a message is relayed (repeated) so that all walkers, especially the leader, are aware of either an emergency or the need to regroup.

It is essential that all walkers carry a whistle. Do you have one?

You can buy one from the Club for only $2.

VALE – JOYCE DUNN 1922–2014

Joyce joined the Melbourne Bushies in 1968 and her involvement continued through the seventies and early eighties. She was a keen pack-carry walker as well as day walks. She also skied a lot – down-hill at Mount Buller and later cross-country skiing with the Bushies, visiting Wilky a number of times.

When she got home from a walk, she would sneak into the house so as not to disturb her husband and have a bath and cleanup before presenting herself!

When her feet started to give her trouble, she took up horse riding, going on cattle drives with Charlie Lovick, and also on drives in NSW (re-enactments, I think)

She was always neat and well groomed, even on tough walks. She would emerge from her tent with make-up and lippy on while the rest of us were all scruffy and unkempt.

She also had a long involvement with the Box Hill Choral Society, where she was known as Connie (her middle name was Constance)

She and her late husband did a lot of travelling in the later years, and later she went on bus tours with a 'young at heart' group.

Joyce was born in 1922 in the western district near Beeac and grew up on a farm. She was the second oldest of five children. When

World War 2 broke out, she enlisted with the Women's Army Corps and drove trucks carrying supplies all over eastern Australia. She was based at the East Sale air force base, where she met her future husband at the dances organised between the WACs and the RAAF crews.

After the war she took up mothercraft nursing.

Joyce loved the outdoors and liked nothing better than being out in Nature and taking on challenges.

Joyce was a quiet and unassuming lady – a really gentle-woman – and she didn't like making a fuss or worrying others. She was always happy and contented and had a habit of humming quietly to herself as she went about her activities.

What a great lady – quiet and unassuming as I said but one tough and adventurous woman.

She had a full life and I have many fond memories of her as I'm sure have others of you.

TARA BULGA NATIONAL PARK PACK CARRY

Options, options and options with extras! That's what this walk was. Exceptionally well organised by our leader, El Presidente.

Not only did we see: the standard koala, wallaby, tiger snake, but we were treated to a once-in-a-life-time display by a male lyrebird for 6 minutes at a distance of 5 metres (whilst on his mound) – the full plumage display and verbal repertoire of calls ranging from the standard lyrebird through to almost synthesised music! But alas, no female responded, well none that we know of!

This was on top of some of the best wet temperate mountain ash and fern glens, as we descended into temperate eucalypt forest with views to the coast. Feeling like you should have come on this pack carry? Well, it gets better! Friday night camp was in a picturesque setting by the Tara River with the tranquil river, bird life aplenty and majestic Mountain Ash as we looked out from our cosy cabins in the caravan park. Sadly we left this tranquil setting on Saturday morning for a 1.2 km loop of the Bulga NP including the suspension bridge, before coffee and carrot cake at the Bulga Guest House.

Then it was into the remainder of the 17 km, as promised, downhill but ... Ooops, forgot about the four crossings with John being the first to display his lack of rock hopping ability, but at least it was refreshing! Then we stopped for lunch at the base of a lovely waterfall for lunch. As we feasted, so did the leeches. This was only to whet our appetite for the short but slippery climb up from Mac's Creek where many decided kneeling in the dirt was acceptable practice. Or was it praying that Graeme did not take them out like a bowling ball, as he slid back down the path of walkers!

All was soon forgiven as the accommodation at the Mac Creek Hall was sighted, with pre-positioned water, flush toilets, tables and chairs along with lighting for a modest $10 each to play cards and gorge ourselves on nibbles. Five purists opted for tents, whilst the remaining six slept on the hall floor. All awoke refreshed for the 500 m climb that awaited on Sunday. A steady gradient rewarded us with views to the coast, aided by the strip clearing of plantation timber in sections outside of the park. Then a 200 m descent to Tarra and Cynthia Falls in some spectacular fern glens.

Thanks to Mick for organising and leading what was a most enjoyable walk, and also for the company of: Graeme, John, Di, Cheryl, Geoff, Jamie, Jeanette, Fang Fang, and Fay.

Kakadu Plan of Management Have Your Say

The new Kakadu Draft Plan of Management is scheduled to be released on 1 December. Comments will be accepted only until the end of January.

This plan will affect what bushwalkers can and can't do for the next ten years. If you would like to walk in Kakadu, or if you simply care about bushwalking in the park, please have your say. Not making a comment tells the authorities either that you are happy with everything in the plan or that you don't care.

The plan will probably go online on the Kakadu Publications page: <http://www.environment.gov.au/topics/national-parks/kakadu-national-park/publications>

Please email me if you would like me to send you details when the plan is actually released.

SEVEN CREEKS GORGE AND GARDEN RANGE, 24–26 OCTOBER A weekend of waterfalls, granite scenery and views

I have always loved waterfalls and granite scenery and Ray Thomas's pack carry weekend near Euroa excelled on both these counts. Seven Creeks Gorge is not well known due to it being rather rough and difficult of access for the non-bushwalker, which is a shame because it ranks up there with the best gorges in Victoria such as Moroka, the Snowy and Little River in East Gippsland, albeit on a smaller scale.

On Saturday our group of 12 on a joint Melbourne Bushies and VMTC trip set off from Gooram Falls, a lovely series of cascades on Seven Creeks and the only ones easily accessible to most people. After copious photos we continued on upstream and were confronted by a seemingly never ending series of cascades, small waterfalls, bigger waterfalls and pools and rocky bits in between. Fabulous stuff. Unfortunately there were some hiccups

Early in the piece one of our group sprained her ankle. Luckily we were close to a farm track, so she hobbled / was supported / was piggybacked the 150 metres while John raced back the kilometre or so to get Ray's car which Judith was able to drive back to Ray's house in Euroa despite the bung ankle. That was hiccup 1. Number 2 was that the day was rather warm and by the time we got to Polly McQuinn's where we were to go overland for 3 km to our intended campsite, we were mostly hot, worn out and low or out of drinking water. Camp was declared there and Ray organized some Euroa friends to bring us water. The containers were insufficient so Ray returned to Euroa to come back with extra water; except that his car was now at Shepparton hospital where Judith had taken it to get the ankle xrayed, never dreaming that Ray might want it half way through the trip! Well, what are good friends for? They drove Ray back to our camp without even flinching but no doubt they've accumulated a load of brownie points in Ray's eyes.

Sunday was less eventful, just a lovely walk over Mt Wombat and part of the Garden Range, with views aplenty, rock slabs, orchids, lilies and more. Conditions were cooler but warm enough to finish with a refreshing dip in the creek. The trip was punctuated by afternoon tea at Ray's place where Judith had left us a note, she having taken the train back to Melbourne earlier in the day.

Thank you Ray for sharing this beautiful area and your extensive botanical knowledge of it with us; and for having the right contacts when we needed them!

The leader: Ray Thomas

FROM VIKING TO GLADIATOR IN THE ALPS

Rain, hail, icy winds, leeches, snakes, river crossings, sheer rock scrambles, scrub bashing – what a fantastic walk! What started out as a challenging Razor–Viking circuit, albeit not the classic route, was turned on its head as unexpected shifts in the weather patterns encouraged a change in plans. Undaunted, Phil and his co-conspirator Jopie crafted a revised schedule that placed safety and comfort before dogged determination to do what we had set out to achieve, and slipped in a final twist that earned us the right for a refreshment stop on the way home.

Saturday morning started out as expected. Light rains had been forecast and we were dressed to suit. The route was one done many times before. Follow the Howqua River upstream, pick up the Queen Spur Road to the side of Queen Spur and amble up to the top of Mt Buggery. Buggery by name, Buggery by fame! ‘Light rains’ persisted and expensive wet weather gear was more wet than gear. Post-fire regrowth ensured that reluctant droplets would soon be trickling down the inside rather than the outside as we fought our way through its tenacious reach providing convenient launching places for heat-seeking leeches. Shortly after lunchtime, spirits still high, we had reached the top with enough blood left to rest as sunshine intermittently broke through the threatening mist. Mt Speculation now beckoned along the Crosscut Saw. Only Horrible Gap stood between us and the prospect of a warm dry tent on the far side of Mt Speculation. It was easy to imagine that whoever had chosen such evocative names for the hills and hollows must have really been having a bad day! By the time we had reached to top of Mt Speculation there were those amongst us who had added a few more adjectives to the descriptions.

4:30pm. Tents up and dry clothes replacing damp. Sheltered from the worst of the screaming wind high overhead. Should we light a fire while we prepare dinner? The decision was taken from our hands. A light drumming on the tents, slowly building as mist became hailstones and our previously green and brown campsite turned into a blanket of white. The marvel of modern telephony said it all. We could expect temperatures overnight of  $-3^{\circ}\text{C}$  with showers and wind persisting. With a hasty goodnight we all retired early to our individual castles to snuggle in as we dined in solitary comfort.

From inside the tents Sunday morning seemed more inviting. Voices echoed out from nearby neighbours as debate ensued as to whether it was  $+6^{\circ}\text{C}$  or  $-6^{\circ}\text{C}$  while thermometers struggled to match the conditions. Only John dared venture out to capture the beauty of the sun rising over cloud filled valleys. The crisp crunch underfoot over even more hailstones favoured the  $-6^{\circ}\text{C}$  camp! Better to roll over again for another couple of hours as the next wave of mist and fog swept across our campsite in the saddle. By the time hunger and nature’s persistent call forced a re-emergence Phil was on the rounds gathering votes. It was a landslide in favour of sitting out the bleak conditions and an alternative walk plan was put into action. Sunday rolled on, the weather improved and a side trip to Mt Koonika relieved the growing signs of craziness brought on by confinement to small (tent) spaces. By dinner time an open fire was in order and Saturday’s damp gear was once again dry and aired.

Monday was a day for easy walking in pleasant conditions. We retraced our path to Mt Buggery and continued beyond along the Crosscut Saw. Our planned descent into The Terrible Hollow and up to Macalister Springs would have to wait for another trip. Clear blue skies saw us across Mt Howitt and along the Australian Alps Walking Track as we soaked up the boundless beauty of the nearby mountain ranges. Camp in a saddle before Mt Magdala seemed a world away from the conditions of the night before.

Only one day left! Our cars were not far away waiting patiently alongside the Howqua River far below. We warmed up by heading over Mt Magdala with a photo-shoot at Hells Window. Spirits high, we were ready for anything to round out this eventful trip. Should we follow the beaten track down Helicopter Spur, take a more challenging route down the spur from Picture Point or plunge headlong with a spirit of adventure down an un-named, untracked spur along the western slopes above Howqua River South Branch? Jopie and John were sent ahead to scout a route. Cautiously confident it could be done we set off in their wake down the un-named spur. Gently at first, then plunging steeply, arms legs and anything else that could brake the descent were put into action. A few testing rocky outcrops and we were soon down onto the more gentle lower reaches of the ridgeline. The vegetation thought so too and free-fall turned into a wrestle to the death as we fought like gladiators to fend off more tenacious shrubs and branches, this time without the leeches. And then, suddenly, the wall of green ended and we walked nonchalantly out onto the clear, even path along the Howqua River that would lead us home.

Thank you Phil for a fabulous walk, to Jopie and John for your navigation and route scouting, and to Susan, Jeanette, Leo, Heath and Frank for your company on a memorable trip.

Ian Mair

MT BULLER – SCENE 1, TAKE 2 PACK CARRY, 14–16 NOVEMBER.

Mount Buller (1805m) was named by the explorer and surveyor Major Sir Thomas Livingstone Mitchell after an acquaintance in the Colonial Office. However the Aboriginal name for the mountain is Bulla Bulla meaning 'good' (Blake, Les – Place names of Victoria, Rigby (Adelaide, 1977))

The summit of Buller can be easily reached by vehicle or a number of mountain bike tracks. Whilst the latter can be used for walking, it is also possible to climb the peak from the Delatite River up the Klingsporn walking track starting at Mirimbah, and is an 8.5 km climb to the village. The Klingsporn Track was the bridle trail followed by stockmen when taking their cattle up high for the summer months. A more adventurous option is to walk to the aptly named 'Thank Christ Corner' on Shoulder Spur and go off-track along Shoulder Spur to Mclaughlin Spur and over the summit of Mt Buller. Mclaughlin Spur offers good views to the summit and the rocky outcrops that must be traversed. A circuit can be done by continuing on to Bluff Spur Memorial Hut below the summit of Mt Stirling and descending along the River Spur Trail for a two day walk with a total distance of 31.6 km and a cumulative ascent/descent of 1680 m.

This was the route planned by Agajan for the club's program last February. Alas, high temperatures and fire danger intervened and prudence dictated a deferral to November. Who would have thought back in February that Agajan would be in Nepal in November! In stepped Deb and like a consummate professional she marshalled the willing twelve and led us unerringly across rocky outcrops and raging streams, ensured we were comfortable through howling winds and lashing rain, and returned us safely to our waiting cars after a very enjoyable and high-spirited walk.

Saturday was the big day! From the start at Mirimbah we climbed unrelentingly up, firstly on the Klingsporn Track and then on a lesser footpad until Mt Buller had been summited. There were no really steep sections but with every upward step there was that nagging voice in the back of the head 'I should have listened more carefully to what John Fritze was saying about pack weight!'. The weather was kind – high clouds and no wind – presenting us with mountain panoramas that delighted in every direction. Jopie enlightened the curious with the identification of the more prominent and enticing peaks and mountain ridges. All too soon we were over the top of Mt Buller and heading into the all-but-deserted Mt Buller Alpine Village for a lunch stop. No! Not a restaurant or cafe, but our carefully selected, balanced, nutritional trail food – and an ice-cream!

Beyond Mt Buller we were entangled in the maze of tracks and by-ways that make the area a popular destination for mountain bike riders. Agajan's maps and Deb's attentive eye saw us safely through what could have been a mystery as absorbing as the disappearances at Hanging Rock. Under gathering dark clouds we finally reached our overnight camp site next to Bluff Spur Memorial Hut. Tents then food was the obvious choice with the forecast night rains an ever-increasing reality.

Sunday arrived earlier for some than others. A dawn retreat to Bluff Hut seemed a better option than resting uneasily in a tent-come-liferaft in the gathering pool of water outside. Even so, with sprits high and dressed for the weather, we were ready to set off close to the appointed time of 8am. Discretion suggested we should take a longer route back down to the Delatite River and avoid some of the river crossings swollen by the overnight rain. Cheerfully we negotiated slender bridges erected for bike riders across the swirling water below and with each crossing felt elated that our feet were nice and dry, until ... Who left out that one bridge? Resigned to our fate we plunged headlong through the (benign, shallow) rapids emerging on the other side with our cherished feet sloshing as we went.

Thank you Deb and Agajan for a great walk and thank you Jopie, Jen, Helen, Elsa, Fang Fang, Di, Mark, Roy, Ray and Geoff for your humour and stimulating company.

Using Queenstown and Te Anau as bases, I am planning to do two pack carry walks on the South Island of New Zealand this coming January. We will fly into Queenstown from where we have ready access to the Routeburn and Greenstone–Caples Tracks which we will combine into a 6-night, 7-day walk of around 95 km. The very popular Routeburn Track provides spectacular views from a high ridge track and contrasts with the valley route of the Greenstone–Caples Track.

After a break in Te Anau on the shores of Lake Te Anau, the second walk will follow the Kepler Track in the heart of the Fiordland National Park, covering 60 km over 3 nights and 4 days, again taking in stunning high mountain views.

Both walks will be challenging and open to the vagaries of alpine weather.

We will complete the two week trip with a short break in Queenstown with options for a further day walk or a lake cruise, or just soaking up all that Queenstown has to offer.

As the Routeburn and Kepler Tracks are part of the New Zealand Great Walks network, they can only be walked with prepaid reservations. Both are popular and places may fill quickly after bookings open around 1st June. A party size limit of 12 will apply.

Greens Bush is the largest remnant of bush land on the Peninsula with vegetation varying from eucalypt forests to fern gullies, heathlands and grasslands. It’s a beautiful walk on good tracks and provides many opportunities for wild life such as parrots, honeyeaters and birds of prey along with many kangaroos.

Both walks start at Baldry’s Crossing, passing through Greens Bush and Highfield Parks, ending at Boneo Rd. The Easy/Medium group’s extra distance involves hiking a portion of the Long Point circuit. We are expecting both groups to be picked up by the bus at 1:30. From here we’ll have a short detour to Cape Schanck to explore the boardwalk and take in the sea views where we’ll be back on the bus at 2:30 pm.

Winetasting at T’Gallant

T’Gallant will run a wine tasting for us at $5 a head; we have the 3 pm session locked in for the Club. (Please bring the correct change so we can collect the money for the winery.) We can rotate from the cellar door to the café for a relaxed tasting, coffee or cake before boarding the bus back home.

I saw this walk in Wild Magazine and was instantly drawn to it because it offers the best of both worlds, enabling exploration of the remote alpine wilderness around the Wellington Plains with the comfort of day packs and a settled campsite. The beautiful Lake Tali Karng, Victoria's only true alpine lake, is a hidden jewel resting at the bottom of a huge natural amphitheatre formed by precipitous slopes surrounding it on four sides. The steep track down to the lake is easily negotiated with day-packs.

After a night camping by the cars at McFarlane Saddle, we carry packs 12.5 km to our campsite at Millers Hut, a morning's walking across alpine grasslands. After setting up camp and lunch we don day-packs for the 10 km round trip to the Sentinels, a rocky promontory with views of the distant East Gippsland ranges and the dark waters of Tali Karng 700 metres below. On Day 2 we descend 700 m to Tali Karng where we spend some time walking around the lake and visiting waterfalls a short way upstream, returning to Millers Hut via the Riggall Spur track, a total distance of about 15 km. On Day 3 we return to McFarlane Saddle via the Spion Kopje ridge, with a short off-track section over grassy terrain and snow gum woodland, before rejoining the Wellington Plains track and reaching the cars around lunchtime.

Full packs are required only for the relatively short and easy section between McFarlane Saddle and Millers Hut, making this a walk suitable for beginner pack-carriers.

Those wanting a shorter ride with less climbing can meet us at 10:15 at our first coffee stop, The Cog Café in Mt Evelyn (on the Warburton side of where the rail trail crosses Monbulk Rd – Melway 120 C1). Parking is available in front of the café and nearby.

Lunch will be along the grassy shaded riverbank in Warburton, close to good cafés. There will also be an afternoon coffee stop on the way back

The trail is in good condition, although road bikes are not recommended.

Please remember to bring water and sunscreen as well as a bike repair kit and spare tube.

In the case of a Total Fire Ban day, or if the temperature forecast for Coldstream is 38 degrees or above, the ride will be cancelled. If it is below that, but considered hot, the ride may be shortened.

Both walks will start from the Jehosaphats Gully Picnic Area where there are toilets, and both will descend the 3.4 km of the XX Track, which is well known as a lyrebird nesting area. After Pinch Gut Creek the groups will split:

Easy group will turn uphill for a short distance to cross the main road and then follow the Cookson Track mainly downhill to recross the road and ascend the side of Mt Beggary as they follow the Mt Everard Track uphill to reach Mt Everard at 440 m. The track will be followed south for another 1.5 km to enjoy the views before doubling back and descending 330 m down the Bundy Track and then the last 1.5 km to Steel Creek and the bus.

The Medium group, after the split of the groups, follows the ridge line down Mt Jerusalem to Steels Creek, dropping some 400 m. Then it will be a steady gradient up the Old Kinglake Road to the Cookson Track and back to the walk start, gaining some 500 m along the way.

There are opportunities to shorten both walks on the day if it is very hot, as the regrowth after the fires five years ago provides a modest amount of shade. We will do an enroute pickup in South Morang on Plenty Road.

After the disappointment of the long weekend being cancelled in 2013 due to fires in the area we are now in the position to offer this long weekend at Mt Hotham again. We have booked the lodge for four nights from 22 to 26 January 2015.

Cost of the weekend is $34 each night per person ($136 per person).

We'll again do the iconic Razorback to Mt Feathertop and the Cobungra Ditch Walks, however, other walks will be finalised closer to the weekend.

For those who want a laid-back holiday, the ambience of the lodge is lovely, with superb views of the surrounding mountains from the balconies. Photos from the Australia Day weekend 2012 in the MBW photogallery will give you an idea of how lovely this venue and the walks in the area are. Shared meals, one meal at the General Store (local pub) make this a great weekend for those who enjoy getting away from it all in a sensational location.

There are no major passes but here will be some long days in terms of time and distance of 4 to 7 hours walking.

The ability to add more walkers to this trip will depend on the availability of additional seats on the charter flight from Milford Sound and the ability of the proposed members wanting to join, to arrive at Milford Sound by January 21 and find accommodation for that evening ready for an early flight to Martin Bay on January 22.

Due to logistic reasons final applications to join this trip WILL CLOSE ON DECEMBER 15.

SNOWY BLUFF AND NEILSON CRAG

DATE	23–26 January 2015
STANDARD	Medium

DISTANCE	32 km plus 4 km optional on Monday afternoon
LEADER	Jopie Bodegraven
TRANSPORT	Private

Snowy Bluff and Neilson Crag are two iconic peaks that we haven't been to for a long time. Neilson Crag is a spectacular rocky crag which is great fun to explore and which gives great views. Snowy Bluff has dramatic cliffs that never fail to impress. As well as these two peaks there will be an extra peak, Trapyard Hill, for those who don't need to get back to Melbourne early and for those who are keen to do some hard gutsy off track exploring and can stay on for the Tuesday, there is a great series of waterfalls and cascades on nearby Shaws Creek to explore.

Friday night we will camp along the Wellington River, probably at the Currawong campsite, 12 or 13 km beyond Licola.

Saturday we drive up to Doolans Plain and do the 3 km return walk to Neilson Crag with plenty of time to explore and enjoy this rocky eminence. After lunch at the cars we walk 7 km mostly downhill to our campsite for 2 nights on the Moroka River.

Sunday is an all day side trip with day packs to climb Snowy Bluff, a climb of around 1000 m over about 7 km. The views from the top will be outstanding. We may return by a more challenging route, depending on how we are going, or we could divide into two groups. We'll see.

Monday sees the inevitable climb back to the cars, 980 m up over about 7 km so we should be back for lunch. For those who want, there may be the option of climbing Trapyard Hill, a 4 km return walk with 220 m of climbing from McFarlane Saddle. That will be the end of the official medium grade walk but for those prepared for more 'fun' and who can stay an extra day, I have some exploring in store. I have explored some way down Shaws Creek where it tumbles off the plateau down towards the Caledonia River and found an amazing series of waterfalls but due to lack of time I couldn't keep going, whereas the waterfalls and cascades did. I therefore have unfinished business there and hope that some others will join me.

Be prepared for possible hot weather. Camping is all low elevation beside rivers so swimming will be in order too. Bring a day pack for the side trips. This is a trip not to be missed.

SUNDAY CAR POOL

MAROONDAH DAM – DONNELLY'S WEIR

DATE	Sunday 25 January 2015
RETURN TIME	6 pm to City
STANDARD	Easy/Medium (also Easy option)
DISTANCE	14 km
ELEVATION	420 m total climb, largest climb 130 m
LEADER	Mick Noonan
TRANSPORT	Cars– Leaving Southbank Blvd at 8:45 am
TRANSPORT COST	$11
AREA	Healesville
MAP REF	Melways 270, VicMaps 1:20,000 Juliet South
FIRE BAN DISTRICT	Central
TEMPERATURE REFERENCE SITE	Yarra Glen

Maroondah Reservoir was finished in 1927. It is in the Yarra Ranges National Park and features gardens with stands of native and exotic trees, native animals and birds, and a wide range of walking tracks. Its lawns and cool summer shade make it a popular picnic destination and a great place for a relatively relaxing 'easy' Sunday walk.

We will walk across the dam wall, check out the lookouts, walk part of the Bicentennial National Trail, enjoy the quiet tracks and pleasant forest walks, majestic ferns, and cross one creek crossing where we may get our shoes wet if there are good summer rains. There are also lots of great views of the Yarra Ranges, Healesville, etc. Depending on the weather we can have lunch at a picnic shelter at Donnelly's Weir or on top of a nearby hill.

On the way back we will see the historic Maroondah Aqueduct dating back to 1893, the Echo Tunnel, and climb Henderson Hill. Just before we get back to the cars we can see the lily pond, historic valve houses and the rose stairway all beneath the towering 41 m dam wall.

The walk is graded at the lower end of Easy/Medium. There is an option for people to have a long lunch at Donnelly's Weir, reducing the distance from 14 to 11 km, and the climbs from 420 to 290 metres. There are a couple of steep hills with generally short climbs which we will take at a steady pace.

On the preview there were colourful parrots and a number of water birds. There should be plenty of time for a coffee stop at Healesville on the way back.

Note: The originally programed walk was in Mt Disappointment State Forest. However since it was last walked before the 2009 bushfires a key track has disappeared into regrowth and the fencing around the reservoir has been increased.

EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST
BASE CAMP/CABIN TRIP
2-6 APRIL 2015
MARLO/CAPE CONRAN
COASTAL PARK

Expressions of interest are invited from members who would like to participate in a Base Camp/Cabin trip at Marlo over Easter 2015. Marlo is where the Snowy River meets the sea after its 500 km journey from the Alps. It is past Orbost in East Gippsland, approximately 400 km (4-5 hours drive) from Melbourne.

I have booked three large camp sites which can each take multiple tents. Cost for camping is $30 per site per night for two people plus $10 per additional person. Two cabins with en suite facilities have also been booked and couples/singles can be accommodated. Cabin costs are dependant on numbers in each and type of cabin, but will range from approximately $130-$240 per person for the four nights. A deposit of $50 per person is required at time of booking whether camping or in a cabin.

There will be two full day walks of 12-14 km each and some shorter walks of from 5-10 km. To register your interest and for further information please contact Margaret Curry.

FEDERATION WALKS WEEKEND 2014, 7-9 NOVEMBER

You weren't there? Well, you missed one to remember. An initiative of the fledgling Federation of Victorian Bushwalking Clubs, the first Federation Walk was held in 1935 and has been almost an annual event ever since. Now under the umbrella of Bushwalking Victoria the one or two day event continues to provide an opportunity for walkers from all clubs to walk together and engage in fellowship.

The organisers and hosts for this year's weekend event (Ben Cruachan, South Gippsland, West Gippsland and Strzelecki bushwalking clubs) chose the location wisely with the idyllic setting of Rawson attracting nearly 300 participants and officials. Snuggled near the edges of the Baw Baw National Park and the feature-rich attractions of Walhalla and the Thompson Reservoir, the steep and in places rugged landscape is crossed by a number of walking tracks of varying degrees of difficulty. With uncanny efficiency and unstinting friendliness and patience the organisers fed, transported and exercised the disparate group that made up a representative cross-section of Victoria's bushwalking community. Thirteen Melbourne Bushwalkers members had made Rawson their base for the weekend. With 22 walk options to choose from the only difficulty was deciding which ones to nominate for each day.

Saturday night was a time to be informed and entertained. Official speeches were kept to a minimum and the guest speaker, Tim Cope, adventurer and author, was as inspiring as he was modest as he presented slides and video clips of his epic journey of 10 000 km on the Trail of Genghis Khan from Mongolia to Hungary by horse – a journey that eventually took him more than three years and led him on a deep journey into the fabric of nomad society on the Eurasian steppe.

Thank you organisers and thank you Bushwalking Victoria for an outstanding weekend.

The Federation Walks Weekend 2015 will be hosted by Bayside Bushwalking Club and the Great Dividing Trail Association and will be held around Daylesford and Hepburn Springs over the weekend of 24th and 25th October.
